MAY BE PUNISHED.

Scripture-McRae Service.

Osgood and son, aged eleven years. Mrs. Osgood was the wife of Mr. E. S. Osgood, of the firm of Osgood & Co., engravers in the Woman's Temple. Accompanying this party were also Miss Harriet M. Tower, assistant principal of the Garfield school; also Miss Floy Reeves and Miss Hess, of the St. Louis Institute. PREPARING TO BOMBARD SANTIAGO.

Shafter Has Given Up Hope of Santiago Surrendering Without Bombardment.

MADRID THINKS IT HAS BEGUN.

And Has a Rumor That the Forts Are Vigorously Replying to the Attack of the Americans.

SHAFTER IS ORDERING UP BIG GUNS.

Scripture-McRae Service.
Siboney, July 7.—General Shafter has given up all hope that Santiago will surrender without a bombardment. He has ordered thirty-two ten-inch mortars to be rushed to the front for use in the bombardment of the city.

THE REPORT IN MADRID.

Scripture-McRae Service.
Madrid, July 7.—It is rumored here that the bombardment of Santiago has already been begun and that the forts there are resisting vigorously the American attack.

PANDO NOT AT SANTIAGO.

Scripture-McRae Service.
Siboney, July 7.—Advices from the front Tuesday evening say that General Pando has not been at Santiago. Refugees report the troops supposed to be Pando's were garrisons from Cubitas, Bonato, San Vicente.

GUNS FOR SHAFTER.

Scripture-McRae Service.
New York, July 7.—Four batteries of heavy artillery have been ordered from Tampa immediately. They go to reinforce Shafter.

A PROCLAMATION.

The President Directs the People to Offer Thanksgiving For Victories Won.

Washington, July 7.—It is believed that congress will adjourn Friday or Saturday, now that Hawaiian and general deficiency bills are out of the way. McKinley last night issued a proclamation to the people of the United States asking them on the next assembling for divine worship to offer thanksgiving to the Almighty God for victories and safe passage of troops across the water.

SPANISH PRIZE TAKEN.

Scripture-McRae Service.
Key West, July 7.—The Spanish schooner Gellite, recently captured by the Eagle, has just been towed in.

UNTRUE REPORTS.

Scripture-McRae Service.
Washington, July 7.—Shafter telegraphed this morning as follows: The reported killing of prisoners by the Cubans is untrue. No prisoners have been given them, yet they show no disposition to injure any one coming into their hands.

WHERE THE PRISONERS GO.

Washington, July 7.—Sampson has been directed to send his prisoners to the United States. The enlisted men and non-commissioned officers among the prisoners will be sent to Portsmouth, N. H., where they will be confined on Seaview Island in the harbor. Orders for the immediate preparation of that place for the reception of the prisoners are going forward. The commissioned officers, from Admiral Cervera himself down to the ensigns, will be sent to Fort Warren, Boston harbor, where they will be turned over to the army for safekeeping.

ON CUBAN SOIL.

New York, July 7.—A special to the World from Washington says: The Cuban legation has been advised of the safe arrival in Cuba of the second expedition of Cuban volunteers from the United States under command of Gen. Emilio Nunez. The expedition left the coast of Florida on the steamer Florida, June 25, and landed at Punta Cana on the 30th.

On board the transport, besides 350 Cuban volunteers, chiefly from Florida and New York, were two dynamite guns, 4,000 Springfield rifles and a large quantity of ammunition.

MORE TALK OF PEACE PROPOSALS.

The Pope Is Taking Energetic Action—Has Instructed the Spanish Bishops to Work for Peace.

A CABINET CRISIS IS PENDING.

Rumored That Gen. Campos May Form a Ministry—Gen. Weyler Has Been Consulted About the Situation.

MEASURES TAKEN TO PROTECT THE QUEEN

Scripture-McRae Service.
New York, July 7.—A Rome dispatch to the Journal says that the Pope has taken energetic proceedings in favor of peace. He has telegraphed the papal nuncio at Madrid enjoining the Spanish bishops to work together in favor of peace.

The correspondent also cables that the Austrian fleet has concentrated near Ragusa ready to start for Spain in case of any danger to the Queen from the populace.

Scripture-McRae Service.
Washington, July 7.—The navy department received a dispatch today from Lieut. Cowell, a naval attaché of the United States legation at London, which states that Spain will probably sue for peace this week. He also says that there will likely be a crisis in the Spanish cabinet when peace steps are taken by the government and Campos will succeed Sagasta as prime minister.

Navy department officials refuse to give the full text of Cowell's dispatch.

The war department has received the copy of a dispatch from Cervera to the general-in-chief at Havana. The dispatch tells of the loss of the Spanish squadron and says the loss is at least six hundred men. It also says the captured crews are very grateful for the noble way they are being treated.

A CRISIS COMING IN SPAIN.

Scripture-McRae Service.
Madrid, July 7.—The Duke of Tetuan, after conferring with the Queen Regent, has met Gen. Weyler and Senor Robledo, and held with them a long conference of great importance. Many rumors of an impending crisis are afloat. It is regarded as probable that Campos will form a ministry within the coming week.

THE FIEND IS DEAD.

Scripture-McRae Service.
Danville, Ky., July 7.—Richard Votaw, who killed four persons at a tent meeting in Mercer county Sunday, was killed by the sheriff this morning.

SHORT OF HEAVY GUNS.

Key West, Fla., July 7.—The heavy loss of life in the fighting at Santiago is attributed to the lack of artillery to cover the advance of our infantry, and sharp criticism is awaiting the man responsible for this condition of affairs. It is claimed that sixty guns were at Tampa ready to be taken to Santiago, but that only sixteen of them were taken. The public has been heretofore induced to excuse the delay in starting the Santiago expedition on the ground that the delay was compensated by the completeness of the expedition when it finally got away.

COURTESY TO CERVERA.

Washington, July 7.—A graceful courtesy was yesterday extended to the captured Spanish admiral, Cervera, by the president. Through Gen. Greely, chief signal officer, permission was sent to Cervera to communicate with his family in Spain by cable. Permission was also granted to other captured Spanish officers to use the cable to transmit personal messages to friends in Spain. The messages will be, of course, carefully censored and nothing will be allowed to pass that would be of assistance in any manner to the enemy.

PROMOTED.

Frankfort, Ky., July 7.—Gov. Bradley has appointed Sergt. Maj. Wm. E. Cabell, of Green county, as adjutant of the Second regiment, vice William Collier, appointed major of the Fourth regiment, under Col. Colson. Rowan Sandley, of Stanford, son of Judge Sandley, was appointed sergeant major, vice Cabell. These appointments were made on recommendation of Col. Gather.

LINEARES MAY BURN SANTIAGO.

Admiral Cervera Said That Lineares Would Burn the City Before He Would Surrender.

CERVERA'S BLOODY CHARACTER.

He Said He Would Turn His Guns on the City Regardless of Friends or Foes if Americans Took It.

THE TERRIBLE CONDITION OF SANTIAGO.

Scripture-McRae Service.
New York, July 7.—The Herald has a Kingston dispatch which tells the following story of Admiral Cervera and which will illustrate the bloodthirsty characteristics of the Spanish race:

Before Cervera's dash from Santiago harbor, the French consul asked him what he would do if Santiago should be captured from the land side. In reply Cervera said that Gen. Lineares would burn the city and that he (Cervera) would turn the guns of the fleet upon the town regardless of friends or foes.

ARE DESPERATE.

Spaniards Threaten to Burn Santiago Rather Than Surrender the City.

Scripture-McRae Service.

Kingston, Jamaica, July 7.—The refugees arriving from Santiago declare that Gen. Lineares intends to burn the town before surrendering. They report that in spite of his declaration, since the effects of the fierce American attack became known in the city the residents and nearly all of the soldiers have been in favor of surrendering before the Americans can begin a bombardment.

When the refugees left Santiago the armed forces were within 300 yards of the barbed wire fences just outside of the city lines, and Archbishop of Santiago had appealed to the Spanish commander to surrender rather than be subjected to a bombardment.

Gen. Lineares, although in great pain from the injury to his arm and compelled to depend for support upon Gen. Toral, absolutely refused to comply with the archbishop's request, and then made the threat to burn the city if the Americans threatened to take it.

The Spanish troops in Santiago had been greatly reduced in numbers just prior to the arrival of Gen. Pando's re-enforcements. The refugees declare that Gen. Lineares had only 4,000 regulars and 200 volunteers left with which to defend the city. Several thousand of his men had been killed and wounded and Admiral Cervera no longer was aiding with his fleet.

The troops were much depressed over these conditions, and their spirits were further lowered by the wounding of Gen. Lineares and the death of Gen. Vara de Rey, who succeeded Gen. Lineares in commanding the troops at the front. If the Spanish troops could have their way, I am told, they would surrender to Gen. Shafter forthwith.

Gen. Pando's arrival with additional troops by the latest information here, places the total strength of the Spanish in Santiago at only a little more than 11,000. The refugees estimate of his strength is 7,000. Only two houses in the city of Santiago had been destroyed by the American fire up to the time the refugees left there for Kingston, but the Spanish ship Trafalgar, which was lying in the harbor, had been sunk by a shell. Two men were killed and five wounded. One woman was killed by the firing on the city.

The refugees left Santiago in boats, being allowed to take no baggage. Crowds surround the consulates in the beleaguered city, praying for permits to leave.

Flour is not obtainable in Santiago; beef costs $1.40 a pound, rice 50 cents a pound and lard $1 a bottle.

The refugees say they saw many persons lying on the plazas in Santiago dying from starvation. It was announced officially in Kingston that the American attack on Saturday that Admiral Camara's fleet had bombarded Key West.

MAY SAVE THE COLON.

Washington, July 7.—The Merritt Wrecking Company, under orders from the Navy Office, sent a wrecking outfit to Santiago yesterday. It is regarded as certain that the Colon can be saved and reports are to be made on the Vizcaya and Oquendo.

HOBSON GETS HIS FREEDOM.

The Brave Lieutenant Returns to the American Lines in Safety Tuesday Evening.

EXCHANGED FOR SPANIARDS.

All His Men Are Well Except Two Seamen, Who Are Just Recovering From Intermittent Fever.

HOBSON IS NOW WITH GENERAL SHAFTER.

Scripture-McRae Service.
Washington, July 7.—Gen. Shafter telegraphed the war department this morning, that Lieut. Hobson and his men have just been received safely in exchange for some Spanish officers and prisoners taken by our troops. All of Hobson's crew are in good health, except two seamen, who are now convalescent from an attack of remittent fever.

Scripture-McRae Service.
Kingston, July 7.—Lieut. Hobson and his companions, the heroes of the Merizaca, arrived at Siboney to be exchanged Tuesday. Lieut. Hobson was escorted by John Jacob Astor.

LA BOURGOGNE.

More Details of the Recent Terrible Disaster at Sea.

Scripture-McRae Service.

Halifax, N. S., July 7.—The ship Cromartyshire in tow of the Allen steamer Greaves, came into the harbor yesterday with her bow stove in and partly dismantled. She had been in collision with the French steamer La Bourgogne off Sable island. The latter sank with 600 people, 200 of whom were saved.

Only one woman survivor is among the saved. The only officers saved were the purser and three engineers. Thirty men belonging to the crew were also picked up. The balance of the 200 saved are passengers.

The steamer belonged to the Campaign general transatlantic company, better known as the French line. She was of 2,907 tons burden and a first-class passenger ship in every respect. She carried a crew of 220 men, and had aboard 508 passengers when she left this port Saturday. Of the passengers 85 were in the first cabin, 125 in the second cabin and 295 in the steerage.

The collision occurred at 4 o'clock in the morning of July 4. A heavy fog prevailed and the crash came almost without warning. Most of the passengers were in their state rooms. So quickly did the vessel founder that a number of these did not even have time to reach the deck and died in their state rooms.

The woman saved was Mrs. A. La Casse. She was picked up by her husband and placed on a life raft. She clung to the raft until picked up. Another woman was with her, but she was washed off the raft by the seas and drowned. Capt. Deloncles stood on the bridge of his ship as she went down. He refused to leave the vessel and perished.

The scenes enacted on board La Bourgogne just after the collision were terrible to witness. Men fought for positions in the boats like raving maniacs, and others were forced back and trampled on by the human beasts who invaded the first law of nature and made self preservation their first object. On board were a large number of Italians and other foreigners who cared little for human life. These fiends stopped at nothing. In one boat was a party of 40 women, but so great was the panic that not a hand was raised to assist in her launching. The occupants so near safety were drowned like rats when the ship, with an awful hissing sound, went down with hundreds of valuable lives. So desperate was the situation that an Italian passenger drew his knife and made a thrust at one who like himself was endeavoring to reach the boats. Immediately this action was initiated in every direction. Knives were flourished with deadly effect. Woman and children were driven back into inevitable death at the points of weapons, the owners of which were experts in their use. Even sex was not respected, and according to the stories of some of the survivors, women were stabbed like so many sheep. The scene on the waters was even worse. Many of those who were struggling in the water attempted to drag themselves into boats and on rafts. These were rudely pushed back to a watery grave. It was a time in which compassion was not to be found. Here, too, knives and other weapons did their work. There was nothing but gigantic peril, and it was a case of the survival of the fittest. Such scenes were fortunately shut out from the eyes of those on board the sailing vessel. The fog prevented the Cromartyshire crew from being eyewitnesses to the terrible affair, but there was plenty of evidence of desperate struggle when the survivors came on board.

Carrollton, Ky., July 7.—Hon. W. W. Masterson, appointed consul at Aiden, Arabia, by President Cleveland, has just returned home. His ship, the Coptic, took on board Capt. Gridley at Hong Kong. He and three other young men took charge of Gridley till his death, June 4. When the brave captain was carried to his cremation, Consul Masterson would round the coffin a large United States flag which he had. The same flag was unfurled to the breeze at this place on the glorious Fourth, and was greatly admired by all beholders.

THE GERMANS AT MANILA.

Scripture-McRae Service.

London, July 7.—The Hong Kong correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "The triumphal entry of the reinforcing squadron into Manila harbor was marked by an unpleasant incident for which the Germans were responsible. As the ships came up the bay they were closely followed by the German warship Kaiserin Augusta, which had been cruising about Mariveles for some time. The impression given everyone who watched her was that she was not only making a close observation of the American forces, but endeavoring to show both Americans and Spanish that she represented a nation which must be reckoned in the present crisis. The feeling among both Americans and Englishmen in the bay is that Germany's attitude as shown by these movements is highly reprehensible and anything but respectful toward the United States.

"Many German merchants at Manila are almost as much displeased by the incident as are the English."

THURSDAY, JULY 7, 1898.

The majority of the citizens understand why the new school building was begun the time it was; it was to embarrass the former administration, but as the embarrassment seems to have re-acted, let them stand the consequences. Don't permit the money that has been spent to be wasted, and build the structure with Paducah mechanics.

Any man who has ever built a house knows that he must be prepared to furnish more money than the rough estimate calls for. If the school board did not know this, it shows their ignorance. As the necessity seemed urgent that the building should be started last year, it is just as urgent that it should be completed at once; "procrastination is the thief of time," the same conditions will exist next year that exists now.
Give it to the lowest bidder and let it be finished at once.

Another strike has been a failure and the authors of it are now out of jobs. The stereotypers on the Chicago English daily newspapers went on to strike and as a result Chicago was for four days without a daily newspaper published in the English language.

and the strikers are without positions, their places being supplied by non-union men. The most peculiar feature of the strike was the nerve of the stereotypers, only about seventy in all, in braving the wealth of the Chicago newspaper union. The strikers evidently got but little sympathy.
They were getting about $25 per week and struck for wages that would aggregate about $40 per week, only to lose out entirely.

FIGHTING JOE WHEELER the brave old hero who is now in Cuba, will receive a great compliment if he survives the perils of the war and returns to his home. He was a member of Congress from Alabama, but the Governor has decided not to call a special election, so Wheeler will have no successor until the regular election in November. But the Republican leaders of his district have decided to nominate no candidate, but declare that the solid Republican vote will be cast for Wheeler for re-election, which simply means that the Republicans will make it unanimous. This will be a well deserved honor. The old hero is 62 years old, but he is as active as many a man a generation younger. It is such leaders as Fighting Joe Wheeler that make American arms invincible.

The School Board has certainly got itself in a scrape over the construction of the new school building.
Its action in regard to the matter smacks more of a lot of school children than of grown men, and demonstrates that there is lacking a business head, which is necessary for the proper management of any institution. The insinuations from certain quarters that all the contractors of the city are endeavoring to put up a job, are ridiculous. The School Board has claimed that the reason it asked for the fifty-cent tax was to build this building; it has collected fifty cents extra for two years for this purpose, so now let

DYSPEPSIA CURE

it build the building. Enough competitive bids can be received to insure fair treatment for the city. The idea that outsiders should bid on this building should not be considered for one moment. Paducah citizens are paying the taxes to build this building, and Paducah mechanics should build it. It was also a piece of extravagance to build such a fine building so far out of the way and this mistake was made by this same Board, and now complete the job.

The law in regard to railroad companies paying the tax on bills of lad-ing and similar documents is no plainer than in regard to express and telegraph companies, and yet the latter companies are evading the tax. If people who are heavy users of the telegraph and express companies would keep a record of the internal revenue stamps they use that those companies ought to furnish, there is little doubt but that they can get their stamps all refunded. As the matter now stands the telegraph companies at least are making big profits out of the war, as their business has been enormously increased and they are not paying one cent of the war tax. A suit for damages has been instituted in Missouri against an express company for failing to accept goods on which the shipper refused to put the internal revenue stamp. The business men of Indianapolis are now investigating the subject with the view of testing the matter in court.
A good deal of feeling has been aroused among the business men of Louisville and a legal test is likely to be made there of the right of the telegraph and express companies to evade their share of the war tax.

The position of the mayor in ordering the factory of J. L. Kilgore assessed is, we believe, untenable.
The mayor not only assumes to abrogate an existing ordinance of the city but he seeks to invalidate a contract.
The plant of J. L. Kilgore was totally destroyed a year or two ago. He alleges that in rebuilding his plant he did so under an ordinance exempting him from taxation for a period of five years. The council in exempting him from taxation, decided that his plant was a new one, and he was entitled to the benefits of the exemption.
Mr. Kilgore acted upon the council's decision and rebuilt his plant, thus in law completing the contract. We don't believe that the mayor takes his position because he is opposed to getting new factories or to the law exempting them from taxation for a period of five years; but we do believe that his action as to the Kilgore factory is unwise and can only involve the city in litigation or work an injustice if it is sustained. It is to be hoped that the grievance committee will grant Mr. Kilgore's request and thus extricate the mayor from a bad position that he is unfortunately does not realize is untenable, and at the same time see that the city keeps faith with Mr. Kilgore.

HEROISM AND CHIVALRY.

(Contributed by the Junior Ward Missionary society of the M. E. church, South J.)

No event in the history of the United States since the Americans fought with united effort for the freedom of this grand and glorious country has so bound together the high and low, the rich and poor, who with one voice have stood so bravely by our flag, as the great conflict of the day.
"In the olden time" the Declaration of Independence was made after many a hard fought battle. Today what are we fighting for? Is it not for the freedom of the isles of the sea—that the people may serve God according to the dictates of their own conscience?

We see the hand of a Mighty Ruler in it.
So long has sovereignty held its sway! Power supreme!
The missionary army, to take the world for Christ, must be as brave as though standing by the flag which is at the head of the great American war squadron. Though it should be carried ragged and wet with blood triumphantly from the battle, the church is marching on to victory.

Some missionaries of whom we have much knowledge have spent many years in a life of exile in foreign lands without the manifestation of any great spiritual power among the natives.
Goethe said: "In youth we think we shall build temples to the gods, but in old age we are glad if we have been able to clear away some of the rubbish in order that others may build." We believe the rubbish is being cleared away and the time for building is at hand.
The churches of America are the crowning glory of the world and will conquer every foe.

SOCIETY NOTES.

LOVE'S LAURELS.

The King may sing of his signet ring,
The Prince of his trusty blade,
But Collins song has a sweeter swing,
To the heart of the peasant maid.
And so I chose the loving lay
That never of knightly knew, Let those who may wear the wreath of of bay—
I'd rather be poor with you.

I'm blest, at best, with no wild unrest,
I envy no man's estate,
I'd rather be once by your lips caressed

Than to linger long and late
With luring languorous lips that learn
No lesson of love that's true;
Their touch I'd spurn with an un-concern—
I'd rather be kissed by you.

A crown, renown, and the softest down
Of couch for a bed of ease, Why, I'd rather give them of your gingham gown

For glory and glow of these.
Lingere, and Dresden, and rarest delv
Shall never my hopes imbue,
Nor princely pelf, nor the crown

I'd rather be poor with you.

party, progressive euchre and crokinote at her home on Seventh and Jef-the As You Like It club, and the guests are privileged to indulge in any or all of the amusements they like.

An afternoon euchre that proved enjoyable to the participants was that of Miss May Terrell on Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mr.
Tom Boswell in Arcadia. Tables were arranged for about 32 guests in the hall and parlor, where several exciting rounds of the proverbially fascinating game were played. Mrs.
Edwin Allen Rivers won the club prize and Miss Matchen, of Eddy-ville, the visitor's prize. Refreshments were served late in the afternoon.

Mrs. Wheeler Campbell entertains at cards Friday morning in honor of served on the lawn and a moonlight ride home wound up a most delightful outing.

templating giving a large party in the near future.

WAINWRIGHT'S REMBRANCE.

(Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune.)

This nation is making heroes so fast that it has become difficult to keep up with all of them. But while we remember Dewey, Sampson, Schley, Hobson and other naval men who have covered themselves with glory, it will not do to forget Lieutenant Commander Wainwright, of the Gloucester. The lieutenant was one of the survivors of the Maine explosion, and he has remembered it ever since the night of February 15, on which date he was "Officer of the Watch." During the fight off Santiago, while Sampson's vessels under Schley were rapidly transforming Cervera's squadron into submarine vessels, Wainwright, commanding a light, unarmored, transformed yacht, went into the melee with the utmost confidence that he could give a good account of himself and his vessel.

He did. He gave such an account of himself, in fact, that not only the Spaniards but the Americans as well stand agape at his sublime impudence. The Gloucester was formerly Pierpont Morgan's yacht, Corsair.
Her heaviest guns are six-pounders.
She properly belongs with the fleetest sort of a mosquito fleet. But when the naval duel began at Santiago, and the monsters of the sea drove at each other with all the energy in them, the American ships burying death and destruction into the Spanish vessels, the light-weight Gloucester, instead of getting out of the way, rushed into the thick of the trouble, like a devoted little dog helping its master fight an enemy by worrying at the heels.

The Vizcaya, Spain's pride, reined tremendous shot and shell at her, and the Pluton and Destroyer turned all their guns upon her. Morro Castle depressed her huge rifles, trained their sights upon the saucy shell of a war vessel, and belched forth tremendous projectiles in her direction. Yet the Gloucester hammered away at the Vizcaya with her spider-legged guns, keeping alongside the great ship as she fled, and never for a moment thinking of getting out of harm's way. When the Spanish torpedo boat destroyers entered into the problem the Gloucester accepted them, as a matter of course, as her portion of the fight.
And she attended to them. Both were sunk by her fire.

When the fight was over the Gloucester was nearest Admiral Cervera's flagship infant. Maria Teresa, and a small boat put off from the yacht, with Lieut. Morton in charge. Into the lowly lieutenant's hands the proud commander of Spain's best fleet placed his surrendered sword and begged to be taken aboard the little yacht, which had come through her experiences unscathed.

That she escaped is nothing more or less than a miracle. That she entered into the fight with such huge determination to do more than her part is due to Lieutenant Commander Wainwright. All honor to this man, then, who so effectively and so gallantly "remembered the Maine."

Argument

Is not necessary to convince a thinking person that money is thrown away when invested in a typewriter that has not passed its experimental period.
Years of hard, thoughtful effort and continual experimenting are necessary before reaching approximate perfection in a writing machine.
Is it wisdom, then, for one to contribute to this cost of experiment?

Reputation Established

Years of experience, constantly increasing sales the world over—the natural result of typewriter excellence—is the unquestioned record of

THE SMITH PREMIER TYPEWRITER.

When you buy a Smith Premier you obtain a writing machine that is in advance of all others in points of improvement and durability.
Do not pay for the costly experiments of others. The Smith Premier passed its experimental period years ago. It now stands the leader among writing machines. Descriptive catalogue free.

KILLED BY CARS.

Fred Whallen Meets a Horrible Fate in Brooklyn, Illinois.

Was Run Over by the Switch Engine There Last Evening.

Fred Whallen, aged 23, a switchman in the Brooklyn yards for the Illinois Central, was run over and killed last evening by a freight train there.

He tried to board a moving train as it passed, but missed his footing and was run over, the wheels almost cutting him in two.

He was a son of Mike Whallen, and as to have been married to a young lady in Brooklyn next Sunday, according to reports.

His death was a great shock to the people of Brooklyn, as he was a young man highly respected by all.

When the young man was killed the engine was backing a car down for the P. D. Staggs. The clerk, Mr. Hornbrook, saw the accident, and helped carry the unfortunate youth up the hill. The cars crushed in his skull. The deceased was a son of the yardmaster there, and was highly spoken of by all who knew him.

HORSE SHOW.

The Mayor's Horse Gives a Performance—Painfully Hurt.

Yesterday afternoon Mayor Lang turned his fine saddle horse into the city hall yard to graze. The equine drifted about until he discovered the fountain, when he went into ecstasies. He soon had a large crowd watching him placing his forefeet on the edge of the base and his mouth over the stream that shot from one of the spouts. He would then shake his head as the water titillated the roof of his mouth, and then repeat the performance.

The crowd greatly enjoyed the sport, and the horse gave a continuous show for over two hours. He soon met with a misfortune, however, as he stepped on a nail and it penetrated his foot for several inches, which crippled him to such an extent that the mayor is now riding an old plug.

POLICE COURT.

A case against Mr. Pat Lally for having a slaughter house inside the city limits, was dismissed with costs.

DOGS AGAIN.

Warrants That Were Issued are to be Served.

Mayor Lang gave instructions today to the police to at once serve the warrants against dog owners who have failed to pay license. There were about 200 of them issued several days ago, but they were held a few days with a hope that the defendants would come up and save themselves the costs. They have failed, however, and the mayor today issued the order to proceed against them.

COUNCIL MEETS.

It Will Have a Called Session This Evening.

The council will meet tonight in called session, and the estimate of the sewerage contractor, it is understood, is ready to be paid. The meeting was to have been held last night, but the estimates were not ready to be paid.

GUARD SHOT.

The Blanks Case Had Not Come Up at Press Time.

At noon today the case against Bob Blanks, at Mayfield, had not come up, and there were two more speeches to make in the Clark murder case. It was thought that the Blanks case would be reached this afternoon before adjournment, however, and there was a great deal of interest taken in it by the people there.

Last night one of the guards accidentally shot himself while drilling, and this occasioned some excitement for a time. He was shot in the arm, and the wound is not serious. The name of the soldier is Ed Diamond, and he will go home tonight.

At 3 o'clock the last speech was being made, and the case will go to the jury this afternoon.

CAUSED BY STARVATION.

This Terrible Condition Often Turns Human Beings Into Brutes.

Silvester Carter, an importer of Chicago, was in Matanzas a few days before the beginning of hostilities with Spain. He was there at the time the cargo of provisions from Kansas City was landed for the starving people. Speaking to a New Orleans Picayune representative recently he said: "I doubt if pen can exaggerate the appalling state of the people in there, but wherever I went in the provinces really in the control of the Spaniards. It was enough to break one's heart to contemplate the multitude of the starving, and it looked like an endless and hopeless task to attempt even to supply these starving mouths. Southern Homeseekers' Guide

A new 1908 edition, entirely rewritten, and giving facts and conditions brought down to date of the "Central's" Southern Homeseekers' Guide, has just been issued. It is a 250 page illustrated pamphlet, contains a large number of letters from northern farmers now joyously located on the line of the Illinois Central Railroad in the states, towns and country on and adjacent to that line. To homeseekers, or those in search of a farm, this pamphlet will furnish reliable information concerning the most accessible and prosperous portion of the South. Free copies can be had by applying to the nearest of the undersigned.

Tickets and full information as to rates in connection with the above can be had of agents of the Central and connecting lines.

By Their Works Ye Shall Know Them

You can tell a Cleveland bicycle from any other wheel made without the aid of the name plate, for no other wheel has the Burwell self-oiling dust-proof bearings, blued spokes, Cleveland hardened block and pin chain, beveled and polished side plates, polished leather grips, and many other desirable features found on no other wheel. Any gear, saddle, tire, handle bar or pedals.

SCREEN + DOORS!

We still have a stock of those fancy screen doors, also seven-eighths and one-and-one-eighth-inch plain screen doors. The wire in these doors is not put on with tacks but securely fastened in grooves with a tongue or strip of wood. We are the only ones selling this class of screens in the city. Insist on having this kind; they are the best. Take no others so-called "just as good."
